THE MARRIAGE ALTAR

A Pretty Afternoon Wedding in Park Place.

Miss Nellie A. Dwyer Becomes the Bride of Mr. Arthur L. Fairer—A Fashionable Evening Marriage in Washington City.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Dwyer, corner of Granby and Thirtieth streets, Park Place, was the scene of a pretty wedding at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Mr. Arthur L. Fairer, son of Mr. G. W. Fairer, of Norfolk, led to hymen's altar Miss Nellie A. Dwyer, their attractive and accomplished daughter.

The parlors were elaborately decorated with palms, ferns, smilax and chrysanthemums in honor of the event, and presented a scene of beauty.

The bride was costumed in a rich made colored tailor-made traveling gown, trimmed in white applique, with hat and gloves to match, and carried white chrysanthemums.

Miss Mamie Pitts, of Norfolk, filled the role of maid of honor. She was attired in a suit similar to the bride, with blue trimmings and black velvet hat. She carried a large cluster of yellow chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. George H. Hibbs, and the master of ceremonies was Mr. Fred Fairer, brother of the groom. The gentlemen of the party appeared in black cutaway coats, white rose boutonnières and dark trousers.

The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. J. J. Taylor, D. D., of Freeman Street Baptist Church, in the presence of a select gathering of invited guests, relatives and close friends of the contracting parties. The bride entered the parlors under the escort of her father, by whom she was given away.

At the conclusion of the nuptials the bridal party and guests were ushered into the double dining-rooms, where an elegant reception was held, the handsomely decorated tables groaning beneath choicest delicacies. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Fairer received the hearty congratulations and good wishes of all present, and accompanied by the best man and maid of honor, left in carriages for the Old Dominion wharf, where the happy couple embarked on the steamer for a bridal tour to New York City, Albany, Glens Falls and Saratoga. They will be at home to their friends, corner of Granby and Thirtieth streets, Park Place, after December 1st.

The bride was the recipient of numerous beautiful, useful and costly presents.

CALLAHAN-WALLACE.

Yesterday's Washington Post says: The marriage of Miss Lily Sabine Callahan and Mr. William M. Wallace, formerly of Wallacetown, Va., but now of this city, took place at 6 o'clock last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Callahan, in the presence of a limited number of relatives and friends. The bride was escorted by her father, and attended by three attractive maids, her small sister, Miss Madeline Callahan, as flower girl, leading the procession in a dainty gown of white mousseline de soie. The two bridesmaids were Miss Edith Callahan and Miss Veronica Wallace, sisters of the bride and groom respectively. They were gowned alike in pink silk poplin, with elaborate garniture of chiffon and white applique, and carried Bridesmaid roses. The bride, who is an extremely graceful and attractive blonde, wore a beautiful princess gown of heavy white satin, trimmed in duchesse lace, and a long tulle veil.

Fastened with orange blossoms, the bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley and bride roses. An orchestra of stringed instruments rendered the wedding chorus from "Lohengrin" as the bride entered the first drawing-room, where she was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Frederick de Poyter House, of New York. Rev. D. J. Stafford, D. D., of St. Patrick's Church, officiated.

A reception to nearly two hundred guests followed the ceremony, the bride and groom leaving later in the evening for a honeymoon trip of some weeks.

The floral decoration was exceptionally beautiful, the spacious old-fashioned parlors being profusely adorned in pink and white roses, with many choice palms lining the hall and Southern emallax spraying the walls and ceiling. The pretty and popular bride received an endless number of rich and beautiful presents, including a full table service of silver, from the groom's family, several generous checks, and many choice pieces of glass and silver toilet and table ware.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will reside with the latter's parents, at 616 Eighteenth street, where they will

A MEMORABLE OCCASION.

FAREWELL RECEPTION TO REV. DR. AND MRS. YOUNG.

The farewell reception given by the membership and congregation of Epworth M. E. Church, under the auspices of the Epworth League, in the lecture room of the church last night, attracted a large audience, and the occasion will long linger in the memories of all present as one of the most enjoyable events that ever transpired in that church. It was a manifestation of the high esteem in which the pastor, Rev. W. J. Young, D. D., and his excellent wife are held by that congregation. Old and young were present to voice their regrets that they are so soon to lose the Doctor as their pastor, but to bow submissively to the law of the church, which calls him to prosecute elsewhere the ministry which he has conducted with such wonderful success in Norfolk for four years, in some other important field of labor.

Not only was the occasion graced by the members of his own flock, by whom he is devotedly loved, but many persons from other denominations, who know and admire Dr. Young's eminent pulpit abilities and esteem him as a man of exalted Christian character, were present to give public expression to the high appreciation in which they hold him.

The reception was preceded by a splendid musical and literary entertainment, with Mr. S. S. Lambeth, Jr., as master of the occasion. Before introducing the first number on the program, he, in brief but well-timed remarks, commended Dr. Young for his faithful ministrations as pastor of the church, and expressed to him and his good wife gratitude for the most helpful service they had rendered the Epworth League and other societies in their efforts to advance the cause of Christ in this city. He closed by saying that the prayers of the entire church will follow Dr. Young and his wife to their new field of labor, for the blessings of God to rest richly upon them. The following choice musical and literary program was rendered:

Piano Solo—Professor A. F. Koerner.
Vocal Solo—Miss Ewell.
Violin Solo—Professor Charles Borjes.
Baritone Solo—Mr. Garrett.
Recitation—Miss Ives.
Tenor Solo—Mr. Tupman.
Contralto Solo—Miss Sallie K. Williams.
Recitation—Miss Sue Russell.
Baritone Solo—Mr. J. Fredell Jenkins.

Vocal Solo—Miss Bessie Williams.
Each and every number on the program was rendered in a faultless manner and received hearty applause from the audience. Just as Miss Bessie Williams had completed the last number, Dr. and Mrs. Young retired to the entertainment hall in the basement of the church, and took their position within a space which had been elaborately decorated with American flags, bunting, palms, ferns and beautiful flowers, where they were to receive the brilliant company present. These, with other decorations gave the handsome banquet hall a scene of tropical beauty.

The large audience on invitation formed in line two abreast and proceeded to the banquet hall, passing the Doctor and his wife, giving each a hearty handshake and wishing them health and happiness and every blessing possible. Dr. and Mrs. Young were visibly affected by this demonstration of esteem and affection for them. This was followed by a bountiful distribution of refreshments.

The Dr. and his wife will leave for conference next Tuesday, but will return after its adjournment, and he will preach his farewell sermon the last Sunday night in November.

A Purple Tea Last Night.

The purple tea given at the First Baptist Church last night by the King's Daughters of that church was enjoyed by a good-sized audience. It was for the benefit of a proposed home for aged women of the Baptist Church of Norfolk and adjacent towns. A nice sum was realized.

The tea, while in charge of all the King's Daughters of the church, was directly superintended by Mesdames Hayes, Ellis and Hatcher. They were assisted by a number of young ladies. The entertainment feature was very successful. Mrs. Hayes made a few introductory remarks, after which a musical program was rendered, as follows:

Vocal Solo—Mr. W. F. Edmonds.
Piano Solo—Miss Gwynn.
Vocal Solos—Miss Eva Davis and Mr. Fentress, Mr. Allen and Miss Denson.
Duet—Mr. Fentress and Mrs. Allen.

King's Daughters Visiting Nurse.

That the King's Daughters' visiting nurse is kept busy is attested by the fact that in the past two months she has seen 47 cases—16 new and 31 old—and made 263 calls. The demands of this department of the work "in his name" have made it necessary to employ a second nurse. On the 15th instant Miss Hutchinson will arrive to assist Miss Mason in her beautiful and much needed charity.

The King's Daughters' Home is now located at No. 251 Fenchurch street, where the nurses may be found when their services are needed.

TO RECOVER SHORTAGE

Albemarle & Chesapeake Canal Co. After Franklin Weld's Estate.

Weld, Who Was President and Treasurer of the Company, Left Shortage of Nearly $40,000—Case in Massachusetts Supreme Court.

There is a probability that the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company will be reimbursed in part, if not in whole, for the loss resulting from the shortage of its late president and treasurer, Franklin Weld. The story of Weld's disappearance, leaving a shortage in accounts with the canal company of between $35,000 and $40,000, is well remembered in Norfolk, as is also that of his death in Nova Scotia a few months thereafter. He was found dead and his body was identified, it is said, by persons who knew him.

The loss of the large sum made away with by Weld was a hard blow to the canal company; and the sensation created by his disappearance in business and social circles was without many equals in the history of the city. Weld's clerk also disappeared, and it has been said that, though he is entirely innocent, he was frightened away by Weld, who wanted to cover up evidence of his own crime.

The chance that is now open for the canal company to get back a sum equal to its embezzled funds is this: Weld's father, who lived near Boston, Mass., died not long since and left a large estate to his son. If the will gives Weld the estate in fee simple, the canal company may recover the sum equal to the amount embezzled by him. If, on the other hand, the estate was left to him only for his lifetime, the canal company cannot recover. It is thought, as the estate will revert to the heirs next in line of the testator, provided, of course, that there is no contrary condition named in the will. It is understood that the estate is worth upwards of $200,000.

The canal company is making an effort to get the sum due it by Weld, and the will in question is to be construed by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts at Boston in the early part of next month. Mr. A. P. Thom, of this city, will go to Boston to appear before this court as counsel for the canal company. Those interested have some hope of recovering.

Funeral of Mr. Samuel Berry.

The funeral of this well-known and popular young man, whose death occurred Tuesday, was held from the residence of his mother, No. 556 Church street, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Daniel T. Merritt, pastor of Huntersville M. E. Church. The remains were laid to rest in Elmwood Cemetery. Following were the pallbearers: Ernest Capps, Fred Bain, H. T. Parsons, T. H. Bartlett, W. M. Moody and H. L. Goodson.

The floral tributes were very handsome.
